Guidelines For School Absences

August 2004 3rd

Colossians 1:28b

Teaching every man in all wisdom; that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus.

The Weaverland Schools encourage full attendance in such a manner that our students will be both law abiding and learn academically. Schools can help them face the challenges in life, be an asset to the church, and an example to the community. We encourage the importance of full attendance as the Lord grants us health, and to plan vacations on holidays or during the summer months. Students absences also complicates a teacher's schedule and increase the teacher's workload.

1. Guidelines for vacation absences.

- a. Five days in one school year are allowed, which would combine two days for educational purposes and three days of un-excused absences.
- b. School assignments during absences should be made up ahead of time.
- c. A daily report for educational days must be submitted to the teacher after a vacation is taken
- d. An application must be submitted to the school board with the reason and number of days, two weeks ahead of time, for review.
- e. Funerals and other church functions are considered part of the five allowable days.

2. Guidelines for hunting absences.

- a. School absences for hunting are not considered an educational day and is discouraged for school students.
- b. School absences for hunting at age thirteen and younger is not acceptable. Hunting absences at ages fourteen and older shall be limited to one day.
